- Kentucky's Covered Bridge Whiskey Company has expanded its offerings, adding a new rye whiskey to its Ruddell's Mill label. The 47.2% abv whiskey is distilled from a high-rye mash bill that also includes malted barley. The brand is named for the founder of a gristmill that operated in Bourbon country during the early years of Kentucky whiskey production. Ruddell's Mill rye is now available in select markets across the U.S. through Worldwide Libations for around $50 a 750-ml.
